The Evolution of English Textbooks in Japan and Korea

Historical Background

English education in Japan and Korea has a long-standing history, dating back to the late 19th and early 20th centuries, when Western influence began to permeate their societies. Initially, English textbooks were imported from Western countries, primarily the United States and the United Kingdom, and designed with a focus on grammar and translation methods.

In Japan, the Meiji era marked the beginning of formal English education, with textbooks emphasizing classical literature and grammar rules. Similarly, Korea's modern English education system was influenced by Japanese colonization and later by American educational models post-liberation.
